

PACIFIC TRAIL SERIES

The Test of Time

Spanning the length of the state, the Pacific crest trail covers every part of California's incredible geographic and cultural diversity. Taking on the journey through this meandering trail will reveal deceptively rich lowland deserts as well as sky scraping giant sequoias shading the heart of the most majestic national parks. You can see the urban sprawl and the natural wonder of the state from border to border, and discover just what makes the west such an enduring representation of America.

Likewise, our Pacific Trail series umbrellas provide the timeless aesthetic of the Market style with all the essential features of a time tested staple of the shade industry we inspired. Fully robust frame-work with crank lift and tilting features supporting a range of canopy styles and fabrics at compelling value, it is the essential shade product standing the test of any use case. From end to end, the simple beauty of complete coverage to businesses and consumers is the hallmark of the Pacific Trail series and California Umbrella.
